Charleston Miracle League, PlayToday! Foundation Host Groundbreaking Celebration June 27 for New TherapyPlay! Module

Charleston – The Charleston Miracle League and PlayToday! Foundation host a groundbreaking celebration for the first-of-its-kind TherapyPlay! Module on Saturday, June 27 at 11 a.m. at Forest Park, 780 W. Oak Forest Dr. in Charleston. The TherapyPlay! Module will be constructed adjacent to Joe Griffith Miracle Field located at Forest Park.

Guest speakers including board members from Charleston Miracle League and the PlayToday! Foundation, along with City of Charleston representatives, will discuss the positive impact the TherapyPlay! Module will have on the community. Special needs community leaders, volunteers, and Charleston Miracle League players and families will also be in attendance at the groundbreaking celebration, which includes complimentary food and the opportunity to view architectural renderings of the TherapyPlay! Module.

The unique design of the pioneering TherapyPlay! Module will provide an innovative playground for the special needs population, enabling a quality recreation experience for those with physical and mental challenges. Physical and occupational therapists will utilize the TherapyPlay! Module's specially-created overhead support system to assist participants with mobility issues and a specialized ground surface for various beneficial therapies for those with special needs. The multi-functional design of the TherapyPlay! Module will also encourage interactive play between special needs individuals and their peers.

The TherapyPlay! Module will be constructed at a cost of $95,000 in approximately 12 weeks. The project, led by Hatton Contracting of Summerville, is expected to be complete prior to the Sept. 19 Opening Day of the Charleston Miracle League's 2015 Fall Season.
